

Pragnya is two and half years old and resides in Bangalore along with his parents. She has a cute younger brother whom she adores very much. Her father works as an accountant in a private company. She was born pre term in the beginning of seventh month. As she was feeble and acquired complications, she was put under ventilator for almost 3 months. Her delayed development and inability to perform age appropriate activities disturbed her parents. Upon medical consultation she was identified with Global Developmental Delay (GDD).

Though she had neck control, able to sit in mother's lap she has challenges in independent sitting and standing. To facilitate this she was provided with a Twin Device. Sitting on her own with the support of the device made her parents happy and hopeful for positive improvements.
